A core mission of A-sa-ma-di Business Solutions is to give back to the Native American Community. Andrea Leshar, President and Owner of A-sa-ma-di Business Solutions, was selected to attend the inaugural U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) Emerging 200 (E200) in the Colorado District. Andrea was one of only 10 other high potential business executives who were selected for this program. The program provides resources to business owners who participate to help them grow sustainable businesses in the Native American Community.

Ms. Leshar provided a statement concerning the event, "It is important for all business owners to take interest in their community. The Native American community is the most underprivileged demographic in the United States. I am a product of that demographic and feel it is my responsibility to be a role model, donating time and resources; as well as generating jobs so others may succeed and have the opportunities I have been given."

A-sa-ma-di Business Solutions (ABS) is a Native American, woman-owned small business, specializing in the delivery of innovative solutions designed to meet our customer's unique business challenges. ABS provides innovative business management and Information Technology solutions tailored to meet the dynamic needs of our Federal, State and Local, and commercial clients.
